

SENIOR WEB DEVELOPER

Summary

- I am looking for a position that will leverage my technical skills along with my people skills and give me an opportunity to expand my experience with latest Microsoft web technologies.
- My strengths are my knowledge of core computer science fundamentals, programming, logical/analytical ability to analyze a problem, find appropriate solution, code reviews, technical writing/reviewing/presentation skills, planning/execution of a big task involving multiple personnel/teams and my diverse career exposure on both application development and systems programming domain.
- I have been consistently recognized as Outstanding Performer (Top 10%) in annual performance reviews in professional career year over year for exceptional contribution to product development and customer satisfaction by solving customer critical issues.